

Fees including books are competitive with quality instruction by qualified teachers training in American methods. The American Language Center, which was formally associated with the U.S Information Service of the U.S Embassy in Lebanon specialises in adult education.

---